

GATHERING THE MAIL

Ever wanted to be a mail carrier? Well, now is your chance, Trailblazer.

Did you know that getting mail to the right person is a hugely important job? Few jobs in the US are protected by the government so strongly, which is how important we all consider this to be.

FLIP OVER FOR YOUR NEXT CHALLENGE

EARN THIS NUGGET

- With your parents' permission and guidance, collect the mail, make sure you get all of it, and get it to the person that it is intended to get to.
- Do this for two weeks and also take out any outgoing mail too.

So the first challenge to collecting the mail is being safe. Many people have to cross the road to get the mail. So never do it without your parents' knowledge and guidance.

The next challenge is that any mail you collect absolutely must get to the person that it is addressed to. Really important stuff comes in the mail and for letters not to get to the intended party can be really, really bad.

Now, did you know that you can also send letters using the mailbox? That's right, you simply leave them in the mailbox and lift that little red flag. That tells Postie that there is something to collect.

The mail service really is a super important responsibility, and now you get to be part of that noble tradition, just like Benjamin Franklin intended.
